

Opportunity to participate in research

I am a university student conducting an anthropological investigation into the experience of M.E for my dissertation. I aim to raise awareness and improve understanding of M.E through qualitative research. I am looking for people (18+) who suffer from M.E or those that are close to them.

To get involved please simply click on the link below. The link leads to an anonymous survey. There is an opportunity to express interest in talking further about your experiences of M.E
